The Amaro Brand

"From farm-to-face" / "Spa-in-a-bottle"

OUR BRAND

Beauty & Wellness REINVENTED – AMAROCBD has the power to change. It can change farming, culture, and the environment. It has the power to bring health, healing and beauty. We set out to create a powerful line of health and cosmetic products that do more than just change in a small way, We want to revolutionize the way sustainable farming meets wellness and beauty. We are truly a "From farm-to-face", locally sourced, small batch "spa-in-a-bottle" company located in Visalia, CA, here in the San Joaquin valley of California.

WHO WE ARE

As a family owned company we know our name is more than just a brand. It's a legacy. For 4 generations the Amaro family has been an integral part of California's beautiful & fertile Central Valley. In 2019, Thomas and Marcos Amaro, father and son took a leap & planted hemp with the intent to leverage our legacy by providing high quality, from-farm-to-face CBD products. As experts in sustainable farming and agriculture, they proudly cultivate, grow, source and process some of the best hemp in the world.

AMARO collaborate with April Lancaster our chief herbalist, who has 20 plus years of experience crafting organic, natural health and beauty products. April and Tom actively source and combine 100% of the ingredients locally in small batch production runs creating AMARO's luxury goods in Visalia California. We only use food-grade, organic ingredients.

The Amaro Story

Beauty & Wellness REINVENTED

AmaroCBD - "From farm to face" offering "Spa in a bottle" Luxury CBD Infused Beauty and Therapeutic Products

For four generations the Amaro family has been an integral part of California's beautiful & fertile Central San Joaquin Valley. In 2019 they took a leap & planted hemp with the intent to provide high quality, farm-to-you CBD products.

Our process is simple. We grow & source it ourselves in California, process it locally and stand by our commitment to quality & CBD content in every product every time.

Our in-house herbalist formulator has over 20 years plus of experience creating high quality holistic "plant based" products used to treat a wide variety of ailments. We turn raw products into high end health & beauty treatments by using only food-grade organic ingredients, essential oils, herbs and extracts, either grown on our farm or sourced from other sustainable organic producers. All of our products are produced in "small production runs" of 400 to 500 items per batch, insuring maximum quality and attention to every detail, from our luxurious products to the white porcelain jars that keep them cool and ready to use!

It is our goal to educate the world on the benefits of CBD and we look forward to educating chiropractors, physical therapists, beauticians, barbers and others who are interested in sharing our products with patients and clients. Please visit our website or visit us personally at Certified Farmer's Markets in Fresno & Hanford to learn how partnering with AmaroCBD can be good for your clients and provide an additional revenue for your business.

Our products are helping to change farming, culture, and the environment. It has the power to bring health, healing and beauty.
